POLO GROUNDS GROUND RULES

1. Thrown ball that remains on, under or behind canvas, back of first or third base, or on steps in right field — TWO BASES
2. Ball hitting home or visitor's club bat rack, or top of bench, same as bench.
3. Bad throw by pitcher from the rubber to catch baserunner off first or third base that goes into stand, or goes under or behind canvas roll or into bench — ONE BASE.
4. Fair batted ball, that goes into ball park area of either home or visiting club — IN PLAY.
5. Fair batted ball hitting upper grandstand or touched by spectator in same — HOME RUN. Ball hit into upper left field grandstand will be judged fair or foul by the pole extending between the dock and the roof and not by the foul line painted on the concrete-boxed. Ball hitting overhanging photographers stand or any advertising sign on facade — HOME RUN. Spectator in left or right field lower grandstand, interfering with batted ball that, in umpires judgment would not go into grandstand, is spectator interference.
8. Ball in play at all times, in outerfield including clubhouse steps and amusement area, one foot must be on ground when catching a fly ball on steps in right field and steps leading to both clubhouses in centerfield.

There is more to the official insignia of the New York Mets than meets the eye. The colors, blue, orange and white are the official colors of the City of New York but carry a further significance. The royal blue is the predominant color of the old Brooklyn Dodgers, while the orange represents the piping on the uniform, of the New York Giants. The monogram "N.Y." is similar to that worn by the Giants in their final seasons at the Polo Grounds.

The circular shape of the insignia, with its orange stitching, represents a baseball and the heritage in the local ground symbolizes that the Mets, in bringing back the National League to New York, represent all five boroughs.

It is not just a skyline in the background but a skyline with meaning to it. At the left is a church spire, reminding us that Brooklyn, the city of churches, is represented by the Mets as well as the other boroughs. The second building from the left is the Williamsburgh Savings Bank, 42 stories, the tallest building in Brooklyn. Next is the Woolworth Building, once the tallest in Manhattan. After a general skyline view of midtown comes the Empire State, the tallest building in America. At the extreme right is the United Nations Building.

The Mets' emblem was designed by Artist Roy Gatto and was selected from many hundreds entered in a contest to select the most appropriate symbol for the new club.
